Ma'am/Sir:

This is to respectfully submit a narrative report on participation in the seminar/training entitled "Crops Research Division Proposal Packaging Workshop" held on July 31 to August 1, 2025 at Acacia Hotel, Alabang.

- Highlights of the training/activity

  The CRD Proposal Packaging Workshop was organized by the Crops Research Division (CRD) in coordination with the Program Development and Resource Generation (PDRG) Section to effectively translate R&D priorities from Industry Strategic S&T Programs (ISPs) into actionable S&T programs and projects.

  Day 1

  - Welcome remarks by Dr. Leilani D. Pelegrina, CRD Director
  - Comprehensive overview of ISPs and the proposal packaging process
  - Training on DOST GIA Guidelines and budget/LIB preparation techniques
  - Technology transfer pathways and technology plan preparation workshop
  - Concept proposal presentations with open forum discussions
  - One-on-one consultations with Industry Strategic S&T Program (ISP) Managers for detailed proposal refinement

  Day 2

  - Detailed proposal presentations and peer review sessions
  - Comprehensive training on DPMIS submission process
  - Continued one-on-one mentoring sessions with ISP Managers
  - Cluster-based discussions organized by commodity groups (Fruits, Industrial, VELERO, Cereals and Other Crops, CHP)

- Photo documentation (preferably dated)

July 31-Mr. Carlo Cunanan presented a concept proposal on Tamarind Production

Aug 1-Participants received their training certificates

- Plan of action for knowledge sharing
  - Conduct a departmental seminar to share key insights on DOST GIA guidelines and proposal packaging best practices
  - Organize a workshop for faculty members on technology plan preparation and DPMIS submission process
  - Establish a proposal development support group within the department
- Recommendations

  From the workshop attended, the faculty members/researchers recommend that the university should allocate resources for proposal development activities to capacitate faculty researchers on the evolving guidelines of the DOST on research funding opportunities.
