Dear Dr. David,

I hope this letter finds you well. I am writing to respectfully recommend the following individuals to attend the "International Seminar on Sustainable Food System and Bioenergy" hosted by Aurora State College of Technology (ASCOT):

- Mr. Fernan I. Camara
- Ms. Glenda T. Cunanan
- Ms. Elaine C. Salvador
- Dr. Marie Lourd I. Sacatropez

The seminar is scheduled for September 9, 2025, and will be held both face-to-face and via Zoom. The theme of the event, "Strengthening Food Systems Through Bioenergy, Food Security, and Halal Food Preparation," is particularly relevant, and it is a good opportunity for our team to learn from distinguished speakers from Indonesia and the Philippines.

In consideration of travel and logistics, I recommend that they attend the seminar online. The online registration fee is P1,000 per person and includes a seminar certificate.

I kindly request your approval for their attendance and the issuance of an office order for their participation.

Thank you for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,

LESLIE V. TORRES, MPS

Dear Dr. David,

Warm greetings from the Organizing Committee of the International Seminar on Sustainable Food System and Bioenergy!

We are pleased to inform you that Aurora State College of Technology (ASCOT) will be hosting the International Seminar on Sustainable Food System and Bioenergy on September 9, 2025, at the Bulwagang Senator Juan C. Angara Upperdeck, ASCOT, Baler, Aurora, in collaboration with your institution, Pampanga State Agricultural University (PSAU), Batanes State College, and the Department of Trade and Industry (DTI) Aurora. With the theme "Strengthening Food Systems Through Bioenergy, Food Security, and Halal Food Preparation," the seminar will feature three (3) distinguished resource speakers from Indonesia and the Philippines who will share their expertise on Halal Food Preparations, Food Security, and Biodiesel.

As part of our shared commitment as co-organizers, we respectfully request PSAU's generous support by sending at least five (5) participants from your institution to actively join the seminar, and promote the seminar among your faculty, staff, and students to encourage wider participation and to ensure the success of this international seminar in advancing sustainable food systems and bioenergy initiatives. Attached are the details of the international seminar.

For coordination and inquiries, you may reach us at seminar@ascot.edu.ph.

We sincerely appreciate your invaluable partnership as co-organizers and look forward to your continued support.

Sincerely,

Dr. Renato B. Reyes

2.2. The organizers reserve the right to accept or reject any substitution request at their sole discretion.

3. Program and Venue Changes

3.1. The organizers reserve the right to make any changes deemed necessary to the seminar program, including but not limited to speakers, topics, schedule, and venue.
3.2. Such changes shall not entitle participants to claim refunds, credits, or compensation of any kind.

4. Travel, Visa, and Accommodation

4.1. All costs relating to travel, visas, insurance, and accommodation shall be the sole responsibility of the participant.
4.2. The organizers shall not be liable for any denial of visa, travel interruption, or additional expenses incurred by the participant.

5. Code of Conduct

5.1. Participants are expected to conduct themselves in a professional and respectful manner throughout the seminar.
5.2. The organizers reserve the right to refuse admission or remove any participant whose conduct is deemed inappropriate, disruptive, or in violation of these terms, without refund.

6. Liability and Insurance

6.1. The organizers shall not be held liable for any personal injury, illness, loss, damage, or theft incurred during the seminar or related activities.
6.2. Participants are strongly advised to secure their own travel, health, and liability insurance prior to attending the seminar.

7. Intellectual Property

7.1. All seminar materials, presentations, and related content remain the intellectual property of their respective authors and/or the organizers.
7.2. Recording, copying, reproducing, or distributing seminar content in any form, without prior written consent, is strictly prohibited.

8. Data Protection and Privacy

8.1. By registering, participants consent to the collection, storage, and processing of their personal data for seminar administration and related communication.

8.2. The organizers may share participants' contact details with official partners and sponsors, unless the participant expressly opts out in writing.

9. Force Majeure

9.1. The organizers shall not be held responsible or liable for any delay, alteration, rescheduling, or cancellation of the seminar due to events beyond their reasonable control, including but not limited to natural disasters, acts of government, strikes, labor disputes, war, terrorism, epidemics, pandemics, civil unrest, transportation disruptions, or any other circumstance constituting force majeure.
9.2. In such cases, the organizers reserve the right to modify the seminar arrangements, postpone, or hold the event virtually, without any obligation to refund fees.

10. Virtual Alternative Clause

10.1. In the event that international travel restrictions, public health concerns, or governmental regulations prevent the seminar from being held in person, the organizers may, at their sole discretion, conduct the seminar in a fully or partially virtual format.
10.2. Participants agree that their registration and payment shall remain valid for the virtual seminar, and no refunds, credits, or compensation shall be provided due to the change in format.
10.3. Access details, technical requirements, and online participation guidelines will be communicated to participants in due course. Participants are responsible for ensuring their own internet connectivity and equipment to attend virtually.

11. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

11.1. These Terms and Conditions shall be governed by and construed in accordance with Philippine laws.

11.2. Any disputes arising in connection with participation in the seminar shall be subject to the exclusive jurisdiction of the competent courts in the Philippines.
